A Thanksgiving Letter

Dear Students,

This week the Student Government Association(SGA) is sponsoring two events in the spirit of the Thanksgiving Holiday. One of the events, a PICNIC, has been planned to give us all a chance to gather with our friends on this joyous occasion. The free picnic will be full of pre-holiday festivity to prepare us for celebrations with our families as we go our separate ways. The picnic will be held on WEDNESDAY, at 3:30 on the lawn in front of the Parker Building. If you have never been to a Nova picnic before you are in for a pleasant (FREE) surprise.

The second event, a canned food drive, has also been planned by the SGA. This will allow us an opportunity to share with others who might not be able to celebrate the holiday without our help. Please reflect on the origins of this holiday and give thanks in a meaningful way. Please bring in your food or monetary contribution to the SGA office(right next to the student lounge) as quick as possible. Thank you, and have a great Thanksgiving!

Sincerely,

James K. Levey,
SGA Public Relations Director

Graham delays action on rule detrimental to Nova

By Mark Prendergast
Capital Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE — Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet delayed action Thursday on a proposal that Nova University President Abraham Fischler said would destroy his independent Broward-based school.

"Seven-hundred-fifty people would be unemployed, 6,000 students would no longer be going to school, and Nova University would have to close its doors," Fischler said, adding later that main campus and law school operations could probably survive.

The proposal, a rule emanating from legislative action taken in 1982, would require prior state review and approval of "branch campuses" established more than 30 miles from a school's main campus.

Graham and the Cabinet said they would reconsider the rule within six weeks, after discussing it further with their staffs, Nova officials and other interested parties.

Nova offers a variety of courses away from its main Davie campus through its "cluster" concept, which brings students and teachers together at 57 in-state sites. Additionally, Nova offers courses in more than 20 states.

Fischler said "clusters" — which he described as groups of students gathered at various locations for periods of instruction lasting up to three years — should not be considered "branch campuses."

Rather, he said, a branch campus is more properly defined as a permanent facility having buildings, a provost and functioning as a genuine remote campus apart from the main campus.

"A cluster is absolutely not a branch campus," Fischler said. "It
